Empowering Young Minds

A program was organized by Ladies Grievance and Redressal cell for girl students of MIT Polytechnic, Chh.Sambhajinagar on February 27, 2025. The Expert for program was Mrs. Mangal Khivansara, Social Worker & President of Indian People & Environment Development Institute, Chh.Sambhajinagar.

Mrs. Mangal Khivansara, Social Worker & President, Indian People & Environment Development Institute, Chh.Sambhajinagar. She is having an experience of 45 years in this field. She is involved in solving different issues of crime against women, and cases related to protection of women in various fields. She is also working as a counselor in Aurangabad commissioner office from last 15 years, Collector office, different Government and non government organizations like colleges, companies etc. She has also written various books and different articles in news papers. She is also awarded with almost 60 awards by various institutions in Maharashtra and Hon. Supreme Court New Delhi.

The guest for the program was felicitated by Prof. S.G. Deshmukh, Principal MIT Polytechnic, Chh.Sambhajinagar. The program started with a speech by Prof. S.G. Deshmukh. Mrs. Mangal Khivansara Mam delivered her speech in which she initially discussed an incident that took place in Pune. She suggested all girls to be brave in life. She further said that girls can keep themselves active and aware of safety. They should spend time with family and share their emotions with family members and close friends. By giving examples of some cases she gave an idea about how a girl can make herself confident and brave in society.

She also suggested that girls should be aware about different laws, rules and regulations regarding women. She has given examples of cases she has handled in her experience. She told various laws and how they could work. She guided girls by giving them certain tips for Do's and Don't's. She suggested girls to use their sixth sense whenever they find themselves in trouble. She also encouraged students to speak out their problems without any hesitation. She also interacted with girl students and cleared their doubts and asked them to save emergency contact numbers in their mobile phones.

After a healthy interactive session the program was over.
